

The authors who contribute to Arizona Working Papers generally plan to revise their papers and submit them for publication elsewhere, and—although they have been carefully edited by the editors—they are to be regarded as works in progress. This volume is intended to serve as a medium for scholarly exchange, and thus questions, comments and suggestions would be welcome. Please address these to the individual authors directly.

A brief description of the SLAT Program at the University of Arizona, including faculty biographies, is included at the end of this volume. Additional information is available from the Program office and at the Program website (<http://w3.coh.arizona.edu/slat/>).
