INDIGENOUS STEWARDS

A special thank you to the following individuals for all of their continued hardwork, dedication, and continued support in making this magazine possible

SWEHSC Staff

Marti Lindsey, PhD Nathan Cherrington, PhD Gilbert Lujan Rivera, Jr. Amy Weisbaum IngriOue Salt Linda Don Sylvia Kneist Anahi Herrera Brittany Brooke Moreno Gary Leslie

Our Contributors

Rvan Smith Karletta Chief, PhD Ruben Cu:k Ba'ak Larry Campbell Jamie Donatuto Edward Schuyler Chew San Carlos Secondary School Ha:sañ Preparatory & Leadership School Ace Charette Kiana Kaye Monica Yellowhair, PhD Lisa Robbins Carrie Nuva Joseph

Michael Kotutwa Johnson

Additional Supporters

Anna Spitz Agnese Nelms Haury Grant Program AISES NASEP ITCA ITEP Ginny Geib Darla Keneston Indigenous Stewards Advisory Board

CONTENTS

INDIGENOUS LEADERSHIP

Karletta Chief, PhD discusses her work in Indigenous communities and how she manages her personal life.

CONTRIBUTORS

Our second annual student literature and photography contributors focused on environmental issues faced by Indigenous communities.

YOUTH ENGAGEMENT

SWEHSC provides youth conferences and Earth Day outreach activities to high schools students in various communities across Arizona.

COVER ART BY RYAN SMITH

"The image is untitled, but it represents the area I'm from, the Colorado River and the fish that live within it. Recently. there was a mine spill at the Gold King Mine in Northern Arizona which spilt contaminants into the Animas River, a tributary of the San Juan River and part of the Colorado River System."

ART

NEOGLYPHIX highlights social justice issues to engage youth in artistically expressing their artistic abilities in a positive manner.

The first annual tribal forum was hosted at the Desert Diamond Casino in Southern Arizona in which tribal environmental professionals discussed various topics.

PATHWAYS

In this issue, Yellowhair & Joseph talk about how their research benefits their home communities.

RESOURCES

TRIBAL FORUM

STUDENT & COMMUNITY 26 Various programs are available to Native students offered both by SWEHSC and the UA.

